

Presented by:

State Botanical Garden of Georgia, 2450 S Milledge Ave, Athens, GA 30605

CEUs: GA and SC

Wednesday, Nov. 13, 2024

Moderator: Ping Yu/Laura Ney

10:00AM-11:00PM: “Substrate Selection and Management for Healthier Ornamental Plants”

Dr. Ping Yu is an assistant professor and extension specialist focuses on ornamental crop production at the University of Georgia. In this session, Dr. Ping Yu will share different substrate selection and management for better ornamental crop production.

11:00AM-12:00PM: “Ornamental Plant Propagation”

Dr. Donglin Zhang is a professor and woody ornamental plant breeder. He has taught woody ornamental plant propagation for years at the University of Georgia. In this session, Dr. Donglin Zhang will share information and tactics on ornamental plant propagation.

12:00PM-1:00PM: Lunch – Sponsored by Custom Agronomics

1:00PM-2:30PM: “An Update on Weed Control for Ornamental Crops”

Dr. Mark Czarnota is researcher, and an extension weed scientist emphasizes on ornamental, small fruit and Christmas trees at the University of Georgia. In this session, Dr. Mark Czarnota will share some tactics on weed identification and management.

2:30PM-4:00PM: “An Update on Plant Diseases for Ornamental Crops”

Dr. Jean Woodward is an extension plant pathologist emphasizes on ornamentals, legume forages and hydroponics at the University of Georgia. In this session, Dr. Jean Woodward will share some tactics on pathogen identification and management.

5:00PM: Social at Creature Comforts - 271 W Hancock Ave, Athens, GA 30601

– Sponsored by:

